DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Group I, claims 1-12 in the reply filed on 1/19/06 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

2. Claims 13-14 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 1/19/06.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1713

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Briot et al. (Organic Letters (2000), ACS., 2(11), 1517-1519).

The article to Briot et al. discloses a ring-closing metathesis process using Ruthenium Grubbs catalyst. Compound/substrate 11 disclosed in Table 1 falls within the scope of the instant monomer (III) expressed in claim 4, and the corresponding cyclic product within the scope of the instant (II) expressed in claim 1. The examiner is of the position that the recited properties are inherent in prior art product because identical monomer and polymer are employed and formed. The burden is placed upon the applicant to provide clear evidence that the respective compositions do in fact differ. Furthermore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to replace the phenyl R group with hydrogen as expressed in claims 3 and 6, in light of their closely related structures and the resulting expectation of similarly reactivity and properties.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Butler et al. (polymer Preprints (1970), 11(1), 48-52; or J. Macromol. Sci.-Chem. (1974), A8(7), 1239-1247; or J. Polym. Sci.(1978), 64, 71-93).

The articles to Butler et al. teach radical cyclopolymerization of 1,6-dienes yielding five-membered and six-membered ring products. Phenylallyl methacrylate and phenylallyl 2-carboethoxyallyl ether were among those exemplified. The instant monomer (III) is closely analogous to those discussed in the articles. The examiner is of the position that it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to replace the carboethoxy group with analogous phenyl and/or hydrogen R groups as presently claimed, in view of their closely related structures, and substantially similar subject matter, and thus, the resulting expectation of similar reactivity and properties, absent evidence of the contrary.

Double Patenting

7. Claims 1-12 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3, 11-12, 19-20, and 25-26 of U.S. Patent No. US 6,939,595 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are generic to and encompass those in the patent claims.

8. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

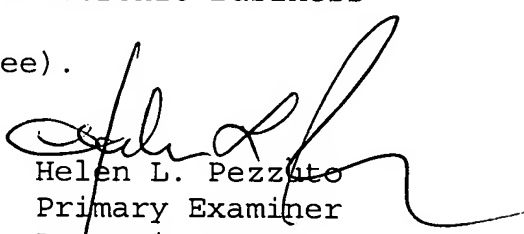

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).
